

Why Stories / Creation Stories

Write a creation story or “why” story of your very own. Identify something in the natural world—a mountain, the wind, an animal, sickness, etc.—and create a story that explains how it came to be.

- Length: at least $\frac{3}{4}$ page long in your Mythbook. (Entry #3)
- You may choose to include gods.
- Consider using a pattern (repetition) in your story.
 - (Ex: “The first day, . . . The second day, . . .”)
- Consider including animals in your story.
- Consider a story in which a rule is broken, then a punishment follows.

Be clear and creative!

Why Stories / Creation Stories

Write a creation story or “why” story of your very own. Identify something in the natural world—a mountain, the wind, an animal, sickness, etc.—and create a story that explains how it came to be.

- Length: at least $\frac{3}{4}$ page long in your Mythbook. (Entry #3)
- You may choose to include gods.
- Consider using a pattern (repetition) in your story.
 - (Ex: “The first day, . . . The second day, . . .”)
- Consider including animals in your story.
- Consider a story in which a rule is broken, then a punishment follows.

Be clear and creative!